Literacy

This week we explored what instructions are and interacted with a range of examples to learn what the key features of instructions are. We also learned what bossy verbs are and how to use them in our writing.

Next week: We will use our knowledge of instructions to write our very own set of instructions on how to make a cucumber sandwich.

Mathematics

This week we revisited how to count in 3s, 5s and 10s. We also explored how to use commutative law and learned about the inverse operation of addition.

Next week: We will continue our work with commutative law and begin exploring the fact families of numbers up to 10.

RE - we will be exploring family life related to Sikhism
